It came today! I was SOOO excited when I got home from school and saw Jane's newest creation waiting for me. I have taken one of her other online classes, "Whimsical Faces," and so I knew this would be amazing, and I must tell you, even though I have only read the first chapter, I have looked at every single page. The minute I got it, I sat down and looked at every page and every heading--just because (like treating myself to a piece of chocolate--just because). The Supplies chapter is the only one that I have read through completely, so far. What I love about it--EVERYTHING! But that is not very helpful to readers of this review, so I will elaborate: Organization--there is an entire chapter devoted to supplies with every different type of supply getting its own full-color two-page spread that is thoughtfully and beautifully designed. The example shots on the supplies pages, themselves, are so chock full of inspiration that I wanted to begin drawing and painting immediately. Information/Explanation--Jane describes each supply and tool in layman's terms so that even someone like me who has absolutely no art training can understand. She will start by sharing with you what she uses, then she explains the tool or medium and its properties/uses. One of my favorite things is how Jane is so attuned to her audience--namely me. She never tries to push a particular brand or product. In fact, she purposefully shares a variety of supply options in a variety of price ranges. For someone like me who is just getting started and doesn't have a large cache of art supplies at hand to draw from, this is so very helpful.
