Toy Stories: Photos Of Children From Around The World And Their Favorite Things

Synopsis

For over a year, the photographer and journalist Gabriele Galimberti visited more than 50 countries and created colorful images of boys and girls in their homes and neighborhoods with their most prized possessions: their toys. From Texas to India, Malawi to China, Iceland, Morocco, and Fiji, Galimberti recorded the spontaneous and natural joy that unites kids despite their diverse backgrounds. Whether the child owns a veritable fleet of miniature cars or a single stuffed monkey, the pride that Galimberti captures is moving, funny, and thought provoking.

Nice book..quick shipping.

I saw this project featured in several different news outlets and loved the concept. This really is a darling book. This would be a great tool to teach smaller children about wealth disparity.

Love this book. The photos are great, my two year old loves to look at the kids and talk about their toys.

The pictures are big and beautiful. I plan on using it to teach kids about diversity and different countries. Perfect!

I have shared this with our grandchildren so they could see that many children around the world, like and play with the same kinds of toys that they own.

I bought this book for my 5-year-old son so he could see how children live in other countries. It is a very eye-opening book, great for helping kids learn a little empathy and appreciation, but also enjoyable for my son to see the kinds of toys other kids play with. Great value.
